A VISIT TO LONG LAKE PARK!

A few days ago we had the pleasure of visiting Long Lake Park, going by the new steamer, Commodore, operated by a new and competent crew. We made the trip from look 1 in 70 minutes. The engineer claims they will be able to shorten the time 10 minutes after a few more trials. It was a very satisfactory ride, free from dust and a continuous breeze. Situated 7½ feet above the lake, and higher than the surrounding country, it affords a magnificent view of the lake and the surrounding country. The hotel is having a number of summer boarders, enjoying the excellent and home-like service, having the satisfaction of seeing the blue all fish landed by their own process. Such a beach for bathing is not surpassed in fresh water bathing.

FORMALLY

Discharged the Jury.

Carr's Motion For New Trial Overruled.

Sentenced to Penitentiary For Life.

Judge Believes Verdict Was Too Severe.

Edwin Carr Will be Released on Bail—Court House News.

The regular jury was discharged by Judge Kohler Thursday morning. The May term has not been formally adjourned as there are several cases to be decided by the court.

It was announced that motions and demurrers would be heard until next Monday, when it is probable that court will be formally adjourned for the April term. A great amount of business has been transacted since the term opened. It is a record breaker in this respect.

MOTION OVERRULED.

The motion for a new trial in the case of the State vs. Gideon Carr was heard Thursday morning. It was overruled by Judge Kohler. The prisoner was in court after passing on the motion the court instructed the prisoner, to stand up. Before passing sentence he asked Carr if he had anything that he wished to say. The unfortunate man announced that he wished to make a statement. He was allowed to do so. He said: "I do not think that I was in the wrong. I believe I was right in defending my own property. I did not intend to kill Hull and I am sorry that I did. I have worked hard all my life and thought that I could begin to see the way clear for a little comfort. Then this came upon us. I am sorry that he is dead. I had no intention of killing the man. This is a hard thing for my wife and child. I think lots of both. I can not bring Hull back now, but he knew he had no right where he was."

In passing the sentence the court said that he deeply regretted that it was his duty to do so. Carr was ordered removed to the county jail. Within 30 days he will be taken to the penitentiary there to remain the balance of his natural life. Solitary confinement is no part of the sentence.

The court in overruling the motion for a new trial made a statement that impressed those present as being much out of the ordinary. He said: "I believe that the verdict in this case should have been manslaughter. I feel that the tragedy was a result of hot blood on the part of all those concerned. The fatal blow was struck during the excitement. I do not believe that that morning any one dreamed of committing murder. There was no deliberation or premeditation. In my judgment it was a case of manslaughter. I overrule the motion for a new trial with considerable regret."

The attorneys for the defendant asked for a new trial on the grounds of error and newly discovered evidence. The evidence is a conversation between attorney T. E. Raley and Frank Bramley the morning of the tragedy. It is alleged to have taken place in front of the Odd Fellows Temple. Bramley denies that it occurred.

On motion of his attorneys, Edwin Carr was admitted to bail in the sum of $2,500. The State asked that the bond be fixed at $7,000.

A reporter for the Democrat asked Prosecutor Wauwamaker to make a statement relative to the Court's remarks at the time the motion was overruled. Mr. Wauwamaker said: "I do not agree with Judge Kohler in what he says. I believe that the jury heard more of the testimony than the Court and that they were in a better position to judge of the degree of the crime. I know that the Carrs have had the reputation of being revengeful, malicious,

The Lightning Heater.

A Tobaccoless Tobacco Heart. "You have," said a physician, "the tobacco heart." The patient made answer, "Doctor, I never smoked but once, and that was when I was a boy." This happened in Germantown. Both men laughed, and the physician prepared to examine the patient again, as to make another diagnosis.

After a half hour of hard work the tobacco heart still seemed to resemble the man's disease, and the physician said, "What do you do for a living?" The man replied, "I am a tobaccoconist."

"Well, then, of course, you've got the tobacco heart, whether you're a smoker or not," said the physician. "All day long you breathe in tobacco. The dust of it fills your lungs, circulates with your blood all over your body and is digested with your food. I have had a number of cases such as yours, and I prescribe eight hours a day in the fresh air. You'll find it hard to follow this prescription. Away from the tobacco laden air of your shop you will have the uneasy, restless longing to get back to it which the smoker, after a few hours of abstinence, has for a cigar. That is strange, but you'll find it true. You have unconsciously acquired the tobacco breathing habit, and it's a habit harder, I believe, to break than the smoking habit itself."—Philadelphia Record.

Old Maryland Superstitions. Witch Killing.—If horses are so badly bewitched that one dies, the following will deprive the witch of her power: Take the dead horse out into a field and burn the carcass beside a tree. First cut a cross in the tree, then drive a nail in at the cross. Now take your rifle, which must be loaded with a silver bullet, choose a position so that the fire is between you and the tree, and shoot over the fire at the nail. When you hit the nail, the witch will lose her power, and you cannot miss with the silver bullet.

To Sell Oneself to the Devil.—Go to the crossroads at midnight alone and play on the banjo. If you really want to sell yourself, two black dogs will appear and will dance as you play. Then you promise something fearful. Any one who thus sold himself was said to be able to outplay and outdance any competitors.

A Method For a Girl to Try Her Fortune.—Put an egg to the fire and sit an hour. The wind will bowl and the dogs bark, and the man you are to marry will come in and turn the egg around. If the egg bursts, you will die for possibly, my informant adds, you will never marry.—Baltimore Sun.

Will You Live to Be Old? "That man will not live to be old," remarked a scientific man to the writer, indicating a man who was standing near.

"Why, pray?" the writer queried wonderingly.

"Well, he has not a single physiological index of long life. His head is narrow; he has narrow eyes and nostrils and a long, delicate hand, all of which augur ill for length of days. "If you observe carefully, you will find that, with rare exceptions, men only serve to emphasize the rule, men who live to be old have wide heads above the ears and wide foreheads. Large and wide nostrils are always evidence that those two important organs, the lungs and the heart, are good. The ears in old men are almost invariably placed low. Again, long lived people usually have broad and short hands—inelegant, it may be, but still an indication of long life. "If, therefore, you see a man who answers these physical conditions, you may safely, barring accidents, of course, predict for him length of days."—New York Telegram.

Hard Woods in Paraguay. Quebracho is one of the profitable woods in Paraguay. It yields an extract used for tanning leather. The forests of Paraguay are full of it. The export of quebracho is very considerable, going principally to Europe, though much is sent to the United States as a product of the Argentine Republic, being shipped via that country.

Answered the Inquiry. "What did you tell those people about the flat, Eliza?" "They asked me if it was good walking distance, and I told them it was."

"Gracious! Good walking distance from what?"

"How do I know? They didn't say, and I wasn't going to be inquisitive."—Chicago Record.

WOMAN

Didn't Talk Enough.

Singular Complaint Made In Mayor's Court.

Zimmerman and Wife Will Not Live Together.

He May go After His Clothing, But That's All.

Quite a Number of Arrests Made Upon Minor Charges.

George Zimmerman was arraigned in Mayor's court Thursday morning, on a charge of assault and battery preferred by his wife, Phoebe Zimmerman. The defendant admitted having been a little bit rough in the treatment of his wife Wednesday, but alleged that it was all due to the fact that she wouldn't talk to him.

In court, Mrs. Zimmerman declared to Mayor Young that she did not love her husband and would never live with him again. She claims that they have been living in her home, and that nearly all of the household goods belong to her. She said that she would willingly give her husband all of his clothes and goods if he would leave her. This was agreed upon, and if after today, Zimmerman is found loitering about his late home, he will go to the workhouse for 30 days. Besides the pending time sentence, the defendant was fined $5 and costs.

James Riley was arrested at Summit lake park, Wednesday afternoon by Constable G. B. Taylor of Coventry township. The auto was telephoned for, and made the trip to and from the park in 45 minutes. Constable Taylor alleges that Riley wanted to run the park, and was arrested while attempting to explode a cannon cracker, in a crowd. He got bolstered and the officer struck him on the head with a club, producing a painful scalp wound. Officer Taylor filed an affidavit against Riley Thursday, and hearing in the case will be given July 11.

Hiram Jackson, liverman has filed an affidavit against Wm. Owen and Henry Gillen, accusing them of cruelty to animals, overdriving a team of horses. He alleges that the defendants hired a team of horses Wednesday to drive to Greensburg, but that instead they drove to Canton, abusing the horses so badly that they have not yet been brought home. The boys were arrested in Canton Wednesday evening, and were arraigned in Mayor's court Thursday morning. They pleaded not guilty, and hearing in the case has been set for July 11. It is thought, however, that the matter will be settled out of court.

Tony Gelder, accused of assault and battery upon Thomas Maaney, was fined $5 and costs.

Cases against Tony Valentine and George Fuchs, fighting, continued to July 7.

Case against Byron W. Kindy, charged by Lewis Ferri with assault and battery, continued to July 7.

James Strapp, intoxication, $10 and costs and 30 days to the workhouse.

Arthur Gagenheim and A. L. Bertele, accused of placing explosives on the street car tracks July 4, were each fined the costs in the case.

Mayor Young on Thursday morning overruled the demurrer in the case against Herman Grossman, accused of peddling fruit without license, and fined the defendant $5 and costs. The defendant was granted five days in which to file a petition in error in the Court of Common Pleas.

Cases against Chas. Leonard and George Kast, accused of placing explosives under street car tracks, continued to July 7.

James E. Warden and Pat Stoen, intoxication, $2 and costs each.
